

Le Prototype V1 se concentre sur le rôle Locataire, couvrant le parcours depuis le déclencheur initial jusqu'à la finalisation de la transaction ; retour et post-location sont hors périmètre.

Étape 1 : Occasion et inspiration

User actions:

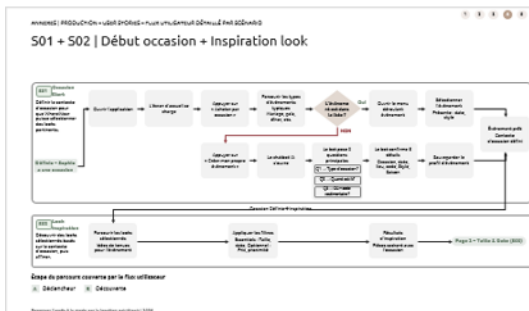

Sophie ouvre WhereWear et sélectionne son occasion (Mariage) depuis la grille d'accueil. Elle parcourt les looks sélectionnés pour cet événement.

Réponse app. :

La grille propose 6 occasions typiques. Si l'événement n'est pas listé, un assistant IA pose 3 questions (type / date / code vestimentaire).

Étape 2 : Taille et dates

Actions utilisateur :

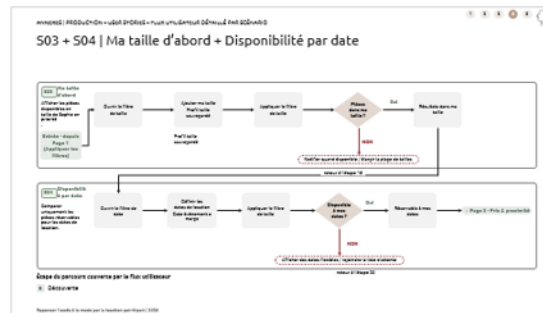

Sophie applique les filtres de découverte essentiels : elle confirme sa taille (pré-remplie depuis son profil), puis définit ses dates de location autour de l'événement.

Réponse app. :

Les résultats se réduisent aux pièces disponibles dans sa taille ET à ses dates. Si zéro résultat, le système propose d'élargir la plage de tailles ou d'afficher des dates flexibles / rejoindre la liste d'attente.

S04 Disponibilité par date

Étape 3 : Prix et proximité

Actions utilisateur :

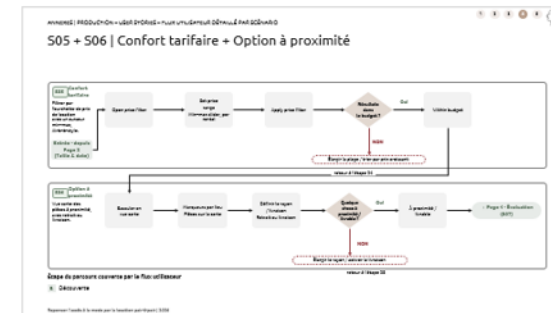

Sophie peut affiner optionnellement par budget (curseur min-max) et par lieu (vue carte, rayon, retrait ou livraison). Les deux filtres sont facultatifs.

Réponse app.:

Un histogramme de prix aide Sophie à définir une fourchette réaliste. La carte montre les marqueurs de lieu des propriétaires. Si rien à proximité : élargir le rayon ou activer la livraison.

Étape 4 : Évaluation et décision

Actions utilisateur :

Sophie ouvre le détail d'une pièce. Elle voit la galerie (4 angles + zoom tissu), lit la fiche taille/état, vérifie la coupe par rapport à son profil et peut poser une question au propriétaire.

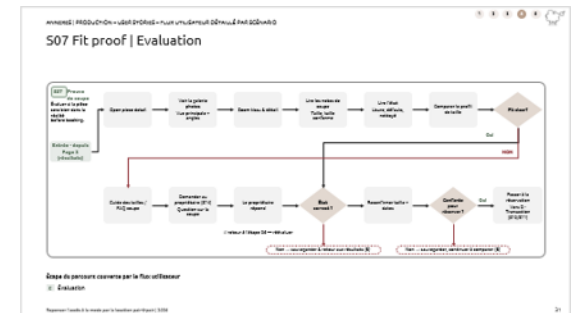

Réponse app. :

Galerie swipeable, fiche de coupe complète (taille étiquette, taille conforme, état, défauts, tissu), correspondance taille / profil, carte propriétaire noté.
